SERVICE AVAILABILITY CHARGE INCREASING An investment in reliability

By Matt Berry, CEO

Regardless of how much electricity a particular family uses, the base cost of making service available to each house is roughly the same. That is why every member pays the Service Availability charge each month to cover basic operational, reliability, and outage repair costs. Starting on September's bill, this charge will increase $10 (from $35 to $45) because our costs are going up.

There are four basic components to our monthly residential bill:

- the kilowatt hour (kWh) energy charge
- the Ohio kWh electricity tax
- the flat monthly Service Availability charge
- the Power Cost Adjustment, which reflects part of the cost of power generation and high voltage transmission

Your monthly investment ensures you have access to safe, reliable and affordable power 24/7 when you need it. The Service Availability charge pays for non-stop investing in your power reliability. We need to constantly invest in the maintenance and upgrade of our electric system, usually $3-4 million per year. This includes poles, wires, transformers, tree trimming, and more. We all need a reliable local energy grid, so we all share in the costs of maintaining and upgrading it.

The Service Availability charge also helps us pay for outage repairs to restore your power after an outage. It helps ensure you'll have power when you need it.

If we lowered our Service Availability charge, the costs don't magically disappear. Let's say we lowered it to a grand total of just $5 per month,

Apply to be a Community Connection Fund trustee

Midwest Electric's Community Connection Fund (CCF) provides funding for charitable local purposes. The CCF is looking for 3 trustees from Allen/Putnam, Van Wert, and Auglaize/Shelby counties to serve on the Board. Terms expire this fall for current trustees.

The CCF board meets four times a year to review grant applications and decide where funds can make the most impact. No special background is necessary for this appointed position. If interested, please contact Joel Johns for an application at jjohns@midwestrec.com or call 800-962-3830.

Have them apply! Call our office or visit midwestrec.com/community-connection-fund for an application. Each quarter, the CCF dispenses thousands of dollars to community projects in need! That's the co-op way.

a $40 reduction from the new rates ($45 – 5 = $40). That $40 monthly cost didn't go away; it still exists to us and still has to be paid by us. So we would have to move it to your variable kilowatt hour (kWh) energy charge. That means people who use more electricity would end up paying more than it actually costs the cooperative to make service available. People who use less electricity will end up being subsidized.

I hope this explanation makes sense. Please contact me with questions or concerns by phone at 800-962-3830 or by email at mberry@midwestrec.com.

UPDATE YOUR PHONE NUMBER WITH US!

NO POWER? PEAK ALERT? WE'LL TEXT YOU!

All mobile numbers on file will receive text alerts for outages affecting you and peak alerts notifying you to reduce your electric demand, save money, and conserve energy. (Learn what a peak alert is below in the orange box.)

Call our office at 419-394-4110 to add phone numbers not already on file. (If you prefer not to receive this communication, you can opt out.)

BEAT THE PEAK

During peak times of 3-7 p.m. on very hot days, electricity costs more!

If you can delay or lower your family's electric use during these peak times, you can help reduce demand and save money. Whether you can put off laundry, wait to shower, or turn up the thermostat just a few degrees, it all helps!

Watch our Facebook page on extremely hot days to see if a peak alert is issued. (We will also text you if you have a phone number on file.) By sharing our Facebook post, you'll be entered in a drawing to win a $25 bill credit.

Consider medical needs when prepping for outages

If you have special medical needs (such as oxygen, dialysis, etc.), you need a backup plan in case of a power outage. Consider getting a backup generator, make plans for a friend or relative to help care for you, and ensure your county EMA office knows your needs.

We can't restore power for certain members sooner than for others. We follow a restoration plan that gives priority to the greatest number of members first, then works down to individual outages. If your outage is an individual one, we can only repair it after we've fixed main lines.
